

FULL BIO

A warrior unleasher, dream liberator, and champion of do-gooders, Nile Harris is a coach, advisor, speaker, educator, and Amazon Best Selling contributing author working with mid-career professionals and entrepreneurs to transform their passion and purpose into P.R.O.F.I.T. by helping them make mindset shifts anchored by action.

As the founder of HVG Advising + Consulting, Warrior Unleashed Coaching, and Warrior Be-School, she delivers keynotes, develops original educational content, and provides results-based executive, life, and business coaching programs to help her warrior clients capitalize on change and accelerate their results using her signature frameworks.

With more than two decades of experience working with Fortune 500 companies, startups, and nonprofits in the financial services, medical device, and education sectors, Nile has generated millions and delivered results by taking action to clarify vision, craft strategies, and execute plans with laser-like precision to realize mission-critical outcomes.

Nile has successfully made several jumps in her life. She earned a Bachelor of Science in Finance and a Bachelor of Liberal Arts and Sciences in Communications in four years from the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. Following her tenure at world-renowned investment banks, she was admitted to the University of Michigan Ross School of Business as a Consortium for Graduate Study in Management Fellow, receiving a full-tuition fellowship to earn an MBA in General Management and Strategy.

During her journey at the world's leading medical device company, she demonstrated her agility by going from a corporate strategy position to a field sales/marketing role working with surgeons. Upon her transition to product marketing, she turned around her product franchise exceeding the revenue target. Additionally, she gained distinction as a Global Innovation Fellow. Subsequently selected as a Broad Center for the Management of School Systems resident, she led strategy for the largest Charter Management Organization in Tennessee, earning her a Master of Education in Education Leadership. Currently, she serves as an Advisor In Residence at the Nashville Entrepreneur Center. Nile served as named Advisory Board Member for a medical device startup, as an Expert Advisor for Life Science Tennessee, and as Vice-Chair of Matthew Walker Comprehensive Healthcare Clinic Board of Directors.

Nile is an Amazon best-selling contributing author of 20 Beautiful Women Volume 5, sharing her story of how to be bulletproof when others are taking aim. In short, her experiences have prepared her for a time such as this. She describes herself as a multipotentialite unicorn swiss army knife. Her mission is to close the wealth, health, and education disparity gap in America. And her why is to do good in the world by helping do-gooders do good in the world.
